Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Several checker matches among well known experts are now in progress. On April 19, Pepp defeated Johnson 2 to 1 and a draw. April 23 Malone defeated Wilson 3 to 0. Saturday, May 3, Griffin will play Hedley a unique match—both playing blindfolded. Hedley will then meet all comers—he playing blindfolded.

We are still giving Three Months' membership to all returned soldiers. If you have a soldier friend, or relative, send him in.

A special movie show was given the boys on last Friday evening. These shows are to be given every two weeks for the present.

Corp. A. H. Hamilton is the latest "Y" soldier to return.

Of Course Not.

Bruce's father has told him much of his Scottish ancestry—especially of the bravery of the soldiers. And Bruce has studied pictures of the soldiers in kilts until he knows their customs very well. Also he has heard much of the various plaid of the clans. Recently Aunt Nell brought home a beautiful piece of plaid silk goods. "I'm going to have it made into a regular Mac-Tavish costume," she told her sister. Bruce opened his eyes. One of his favorite kilties was a MacTavish. He waited until auntie was gone; then he went to mother, "Ob, mother," he said, "Is Aunt Nellie going to let her knees show, too?"

Sad-Faced Thinkers.

A patron of Mr. Dana's library observes that the people who browse in the fiction department look happy and peaceful and contented, while the people who frequent the technical room look miserable. The phenomenon may be thus explained: The people in the technical room are engaged in thinking, and thinking is the most violent work that the human being does. A football player plunging through the line doesn't look happy. A runner winning a race wears a look of anguish. A man thinking is engaged in a more strenuous undertaking than football or foot racing. Of course, he looks wretched.—Newark News.

Houses Without Nails.

In Alberta, Canada, there exists a village where no nails have been used in the construction of the houses. These were built by Ruthenian immigrants, and are of the typical Ruthenian style—long, pitched, thatched, and wide in the eaves. Even the door, an affair of slender twigs, woven and laced together, swings on home-made hinges and is latched with a wooden hasp. The floor is of hewn logs unnailed. The roof is a wonderful fabric of poles and cross-woven wheat straw ten inches thick, packed tightly and solidly, and laid with such care that it will endure any weather for 20 years.

PUBLIC WEDDING

Big Public Wedding at EBENEZER A. M. E. CHURCH Next FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 9TH.

LINCOLN INSTITUTE.

The faculty and students of Lincoln Institute attended a special educational service at the Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Sergt. Robert Darnaby, who was the guest of the school last week, left Friday noon en route to Tuskegee.

The annual Sophomore class party was held in the dining room Friday evening. The class colors, green and white, were used throughout the decorations, and also in the refreshments. All told, it was such a pretty affair that the class members are quite "chummy" over it.

Mrs. Richardson and Miss Robinson report a particularly pleasant weekend in Boonville and Marshall.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. had a joint meeting Sunday afternoon. In addition, there was special music and an Easter talk by Mr. T. P. Smith. The monthly Patrons' Meeting of the Model School was held last Thursday afternoon. The members were quite enthusiastic, and before the meeting ended, had pledged the school a victrola within the next fortnight. There were also hints of a piano in the fall. Hurrah for the Patrons' Club!

The buildings and campus are buzzing with ideas and plans for Commencement. It promises to be one of the best in the history of the school. Many unique features are being planned. Come and see for yourself.

A short time ago President Richardson requested the girls to provide themselves with white canvas shoes for Easter to complete their uniforms of white waists and blue skirts. The response was gratifying indeed. By Sunday each girl in the dormitory had secured her shoes and the general appearance was improved wonderfully. Many compliments were received and much admiration aroused as the boys, in their khaki colored suits, led the line of march to church Sunday morning, and the girls, so neatly clad, felt in behind. Mr. Rose, assisted by several of his lieutenants, had charge of the line.

The Model School teachers entertained their pupils Saturday afternoon with an egg hunt. The little folks enjoyed the searching very much and were loath to end it.

The Senior Normal girls appeared Sunday in attractive white poplin dresses, and were the envy of all the other girls.

The "All Stars" proved their name when they defeated the Y. M. C. A. baseball team on the campus Saturday afternoon. Goins and Cartright and Butler and Sweets were the respective batteries. Since it was the season's first game it was largely attended and there was much enthusiasm and class spirit manifested. The score was ten to two.

Mr. W. E. Jacobs and the members of the Senior Normal class will spend a day in Columbia next week, visiting the schools.

A special Shakespeare program was given in the Chapel Wednesday morning to celebrate the anniversary of the noted dramatist.

The students are manifesting much interest in the forthcoming declamatory contest. First and second prizes of ten and five dollars respectively have been offered by the faculty, and there are many aspirants for the same. The preliminary try-outs are April 26.

Miss Mary Hayden of St. Louis spent Easter with her sister, Florence Hayden, a Junior High student.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have new tennis equipment and are challenging all comers.

The eggs given to the members of the Institute Sunday School were hand painted, the work of the students in the Art Department.

Mrs. E. Clark of St. Louis, mother of America and Edna Clark, spent Easter at the Institute.

The classes in Agriculture are getting much practice work at the Institute farm. And best of all, they enjoy it immensely.

The work of repairing the tower which was destroyed by fire last fall is progressing rapidly.

SUMMER MUSIC SCHOOL

R. G. Jackson announces a Summer School of Music at Allen Chapel. For good period prospective pupils are invited to enroll now. Beginners will be given as much consideration as persons who are advanced. Those desiring to learn to read music by sight will have opportunity to do so either privately or in classes. On account of there being a stronger demand for pipe organists than ever before, it will be well for those talented to study organ this summer.
